

Analyst for Private Market Investments

Meketa Investment Group is a growing, independent investment consulting firm providing strategic investment advice to large institutional clients. We provide a team-oriented, stimulating environment and outstanding benefits.

We are currently seeking to hire an Investment Analyst specializing in private market investments for our San Diego (Carlsbad) office.

Analysts work directly with senior consultants to provide investment advisory services to our clients, including setting investment strategies, selecting investment managers, and monitoring performance and strategy. The position's responsibilities include:

- Presenting our research and recommendations to clients.
- Assisting with the firm's marketing effort.
- Meeting with and evaluating the capabilities of private market managers, with a primary focus on private equity strategies: buyout, venture capital, and mezzanine debt. The position could also include some work in the areas of infrastructure, natural resources and real estate.
- Conducting special research on private market strategies and opportunities.
- Assisting in the production of quarterly reports and related advisory services.

The ideal candidate will have demonstrated knowledge of private market investments; MBA, CFA and/or CAIA designation preferred; a minimum of five years of investment experience; a strong background in economics, finance, and statistics; superior writing and analytical abilities; and skill with Microsoft Word, Excel and PowerPoint.
